Introduction

THROUGHOUT the entire development of our business it has been our constant aim to render a distinct and genuine service simultaneous with the sale of our products.

Our development of new and original pieces has taken into consideration the quickly changing fancy of the public and we have always endeavored to supply our patronage with the formulas for making them.

With the passing of the years these valuable formulas have accumulated. We have been happy spectators of their successful use by our patrons and it seems a fitting time to present them, collected into one volume, to the confectionery trade with our compliments.

This volume, the tangible evidence of the fruits of our labors in behalf of the confectioners large and small and of our efforts for quality and a standardization of Candy is presented with the confident belief that the valuable information herein contained will be much appreciated.

And we voice the hope that it may more closely cement those kindly relations already existent.

Cordially,

WHITE STOKES COMPANY, Inc.

PERFECTION NOUGAT CREME

 ITH ceaseless untiring efforts White Stokes Company have given to the confectionery world not one but several desirable and necessary products, each of them capable of producing an exceptional and superior piece of goods.

Chief among them is our Perfection Nougat Creme. The success of this product, a light, white, fine cream fondant has been exceptional yet entirely deserved. Not alone because it is a rare and original product but because of its remarkable assistance to confectioners large and small.

Made of the highest grade materials, absolutely pure, its use is an immediate guarantee of a quality piece. It is an economy because it saves time, labor and money. When Perfection Nougat Creme is used the necessity of a stock of eggs or egg albumen is eliminated.

The following formulas have each and every one been made and used successfully.

They have most of them been in use by manufacturing confectioners for several years and are highly prized.

The consistent use of Perfection Nougat Creme by hundreds of houses is tangible evidence that the successful production of any of the formulas which follow is greatly dependent upon its use—as indicated in the formulas.

These formulas cover a wide range of candy making and permit the production of seasonable goods of great variety.

PERFECTION KARMEL KREME

PERHAPS equal in importance to Perfection Nougat Creme is Perfection Karmel Kreme. It should be borne in mind that this product is not in any way to be compared to a caramel paste or cheap filler. Neither does it contain starch or flour.

Perfection Karmel Kreme does contain a very large percentage of special grade milk and cream, therefore being thus rich in butterfat a creamy and rich piece of goods is absolutely assured and of the highest quality.

Perfection Karmel Kreme is an original and distinctive product and as such when used in the following formulas and in the numerous ways directed imparts an individuality and richness and that different taste impossible to obtain by the use of other or substitute ingredients.

The item of labor and time is important from the stand-point of cost and profit, therefore in as much as Perfection Karmel Kreme saves valuable time and labor it saves money. That point alone is important but when coupled with the assurance of a superior piece of goods at no increase in cost uniformity and the possibility of a wide range not only of caramels but other pieces from this one product, it should instantly commend itself to the discriminating and progressive Candy man as an absolute necessity.

The following Perfection Karmel Kreme formulas have each a distinct value and have proven exceptionally successful wherever introduced.

MAZETTA

N order to provide for every demand we perfected Mazetta Creme. It is built up on the same high grade principles which characterize all White-Stokes products. Based upon our wide-spread knowledge of the demands and requirements of the confectionery trade Mazetta is supplied for use in grades of goods of quality, purity and volume production.

Mazetta Creme is a sweet white mellow fondant made of only the finest and purest materials. It has come into wide use because of the ease of using it and the small item of labor and time consumed.

The products resulting from the use of Mazetta Creme are characterized by a richness and creaminess and texture perhaps only obtainable through the use of this product.

It immediately commends itself to the confectioner because it eliminates so many operations hitherto necessary by the old method in making cream goods.

A reference to any of the following formulas should immediatly impress the manufacturer with the possibilities and saving both in labor and money in the use of Mazetta Creme.

Place the desired amount of sugar and corn syrup in kettle with water to dissolve; stir till batch starts to boil. Place steamer or cover over kettle for about 5 minutes. Take off and wash down sides of kettle with a clean brush wet with water. Place gauge in batch, cook to desired degree. Pour on clean slab sprinkled with a little water. Sprinkle a little water on top of batch to allay the grain. Let set till almost cold, stir with spades till batch sets in a firm mass, or if using Ball Beater, start machine. If using a Dillon or Werner Beater, place batch in hopper or cooler. When cold enough to beat, run batch through machine into tubs. Cover with a damp cloth and let mellow for 4 or 5 hours when it is ready to use.

INSTRUCTIONS FOR MAKING
CREAM FONDANTS

For Starch Run Centers: When remelting the cream for casting use steam kettle or hot water bath and stir constantly until partly melted, then add the Mazetta Creme. Melt slowly while remelting and stir continually until both are thoroughly mixed. Overheating when remelting destroys the fine qualities of Mazetta Creme as well as causing the cream to become grainy. A pure sugar syrup or white corn syrup may be added for thinning the cream in the event it becomes too thick for casting. The batch should be well stirred when the syrup or corn syrup is added. If you use a Ball or Dayton Beater, add the Mazetta Creme when the cream is cool enough to start stirring. If a Cylinder Beater is used, add the Mazetta Creme when the cream is being remelted.

INSTRUCTIONS FOR MELTING
CREAM FON-DANTS WHEN
USING MAZETTA
CREME

Pour the batch on the slab and let it cool until almost cold before stirring or beating, then add the Mazetta Creme. Beat or stir until the batch is finished. Never mix in any of the half-stirred cream, as it will cause the centers to leak and sour. The above instructions will also answer for a Ball Beater.

By using a Bob or Conserve in remelting it is possible to make different centers, by using one cream fondant as a stock cream, and does away with the problem of having different kinds of fondants always in stock. Cream centers made by this method will be smoother and much easier handled, taking much less time and labor than by melting the fondants by themselves, also does away with the manufacturing of as much Cream Fondant as the other method, your Bob or Conserve being one-third of your batch, the cream will be more uniform, as the heat of the batch is about right for casting from the heat of Bob or Conserve, which is added while hot. The following formulas will explain this method:

Stock Cream Fondant

JERSEY CARAMEL CREME

GOOD unwrapped, pan caramel may be made from Jersey Caramel Creme without the addition of any other ingredient--and with but slight additions a variety of goods may be produced from this partially prepared base.

It requires no stretch of the imagination to quickly appreciate the importance of Jersey Caramel Creme to the confectioner. A large or small batch, as desired, may be quickly produced and finished in twenty minutes—saving from twenty to twenty-five minutes and assuring a uniform creamy piece of goods.

Each of the following formulas has an individuality due entirely to the use of Jersey Caramel Creme.

We commend this product for its time and labor saving advantages as well as its exceptional merits of quality, flavor and body.

This Caramel is made from our Jersey Caramel Creme without the addition of any other ingredient.

When cooking with coke or gas fire, add when starting a handful of corn syrup, then add the desired amount of Jersey Caramel Creme you wish to cook. Place the kettle over a slow fire.

Stir the Creme continually from the time you place it in the kettle, until same is cooked to the desired degree, which should be a medium ball in cool weather and a hard ball in hot weather.
